

GVT 317/617
2008 Korea Summer Institute
Suffolk University College of Arts and Sciences

Faculty: Simone B. Chun, Assistant Professor of Government, schun@suffolk.edu

Date: Weekly seminars between June and July in Boston and August 17 and 29, Jeju Island, Republic of Korea. Contact Prof. Chun for further information.

Application deadline: July 7

Cost: $5,500

Affiliated (Host) School

Cheju National University, Jeju, Republic of Korea

<http://www.cheju.ac.kr:8080/eng/main.jsp>

Student Eligibility

Open to Liberal Arts graduate/undergraduate students from Suffolk University, as well as eligible students from other colleges and universities.

Course description

Students will participate in the 2nd Peace Island School, Jeju National University. Scholars from Europe, the United States, Japan, Australia, Korea, and Taiwan will debate and present on a wide range of topics, including international peace movements, global peace governance and the environment. Suffolk faculty in attendance will include Dr. John C. Berg, Dr. Simone B. Chun, and Dr. Martha Richmond. Students will have the opportunity to interact with students and scholars representing Asia, Europe and the U.S, and will be invited to participate in the Young Professional Session for Peace. Korean language proficiency is not required, but the course curriculum will include intensive preparation in basic Korean, as well as background readings in Korean culture, society, and government.

<http://www.worldpeaceisland.org/>